

Healthy Economies Can't Run on Empty.

BUSINESSES NEED SKILLED WORKERS!

How healthy is the business and employment climate in your community? Are motivated individuals unable to find living-wage jobs? Are there enough trained workers available to fill skilled jobs? Are businesses suffering from high employee-turnover rates?

Penn State Cooperative Extension's Workforce Development programs provide valuable opportunities to help:

- Pennsylvanians learn basic employment skills and
- businesses to find qualified workers.

We teach basic employment skills like communication, teamwork, and problem solving; and we partner with local businesses, agencies, and organizations to conduct workforce assessments and pre-employment and incumbent worker training in select Pennsylvania counties.
